Short-Term Forecast Discussion

- Saturday looks to feature scattered showers/ t-storms for most of the day. While it will not be raining the entire day, chances look to be present at really any point. Lightning threat looks to be on the lower end, but still not 0%.
- Winds will start out rather calm while generally coming out of the NE for the first half of Saturday, expecting a slight increase to 5-10 MPH with having a bit more of an Easterly component into the afternoon (a few gusts locally higher).
- Upper 70s anticipated for the boarding station Sat., mid 80s closer to HOU metro
- No fog expected Saturday, but reduced visibility will be possible within the precipitation.

Sustained Winds (1 PM CT)

Simulated Radar Snapshot (10 AM CT)

High Temperatures Saturday

Short-Term Forecast Discussion

- Anticipating dry weather Sunday
- Winds look to be a bit higher at the boarding station Sunday vs our Northern stations. Expecting sustained winds 10-15 MPH with gusts locally higher, winds of 5-10 MPH closer to downtown HOU
- Sunday's temps should be in the upper 70s / lower 80s around the area
 - No fog anticipated Sunday.

Sustained Winds (12 PM CT)

Simulated Radar Snapshot (11 PM CT)

High Temperatures Sunday

Long-Range Forecast Discussion

- For the next 5-7 days, we favor temps to be right around average for this time of year and our active precip pattern will relax some as we head deeper into this week.

- Working into early June, we are favoring below normal temps for this time of year and for precipitation to stay on the active side of things. Increased moisture risks likely continue across the Southern US.

- The weeks ³/₄ (early to mid June) period likely features more cooler than normal temperatures and above normal moisture, similar to our current week 2 thoughts.
