Tropical Update:

EPS Tracks (Next 10-days):

Confidence remains high that this system will work its way closer to New Orleans rather than Houston. Impacts will remain quite limited for our stations. Beyond this system, there is nothing of note at this distance regarding upcoming tropical mischief.

Short-Term Forecast Discussion

- Continue to favor a generally drier day today- while a very iso shower will be possible this AM, mainly drier conditions expected. Right now the best opportunity for a few isolated pockets of precip will come in the 4-8 PM window, but again, there will still be drier hours in that timeframe.
- Currently favoring sustained winds of 8-13 MPH with a few isolated gusts up to 18 MPH. Main wind direction the first half of the day will be coming from the E/NE, turning more E/SE beyond ~4 PM.
- Upper 80s to lower 90s for most stations, mid 90s closer to the HOU metro.
 - No fog anticipated today.

Simulated Radar Snapshot (6 PM CT)

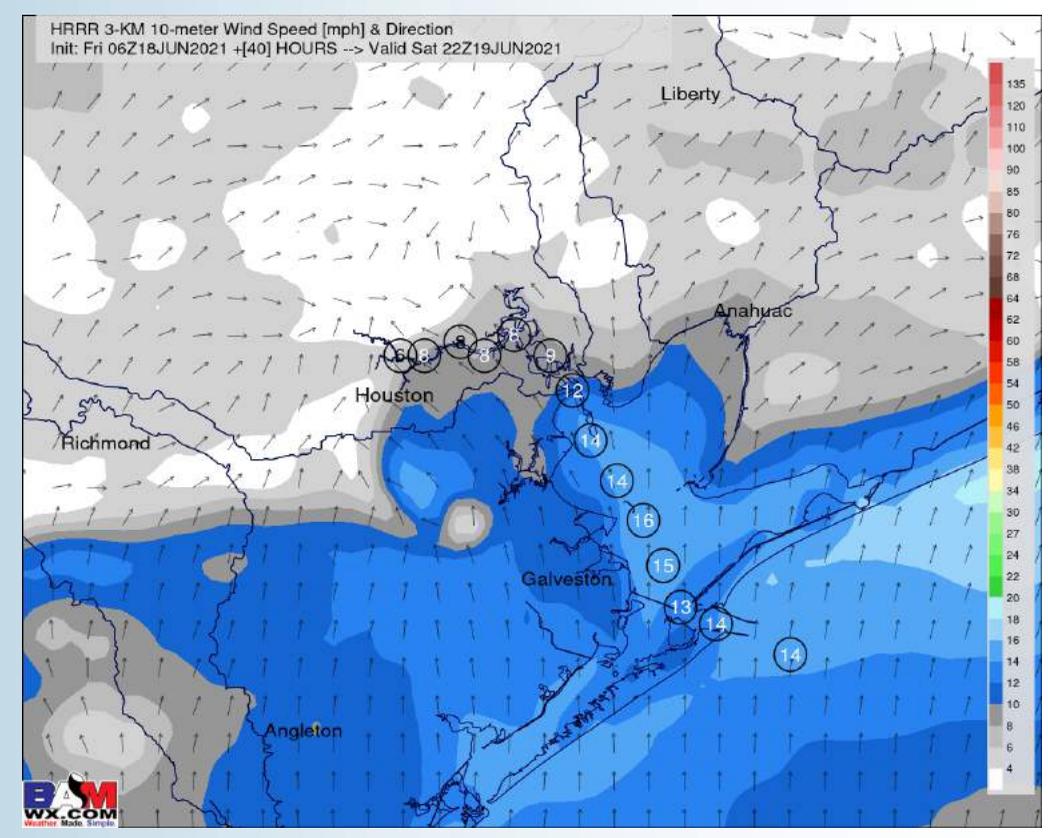

High Temperatures Today

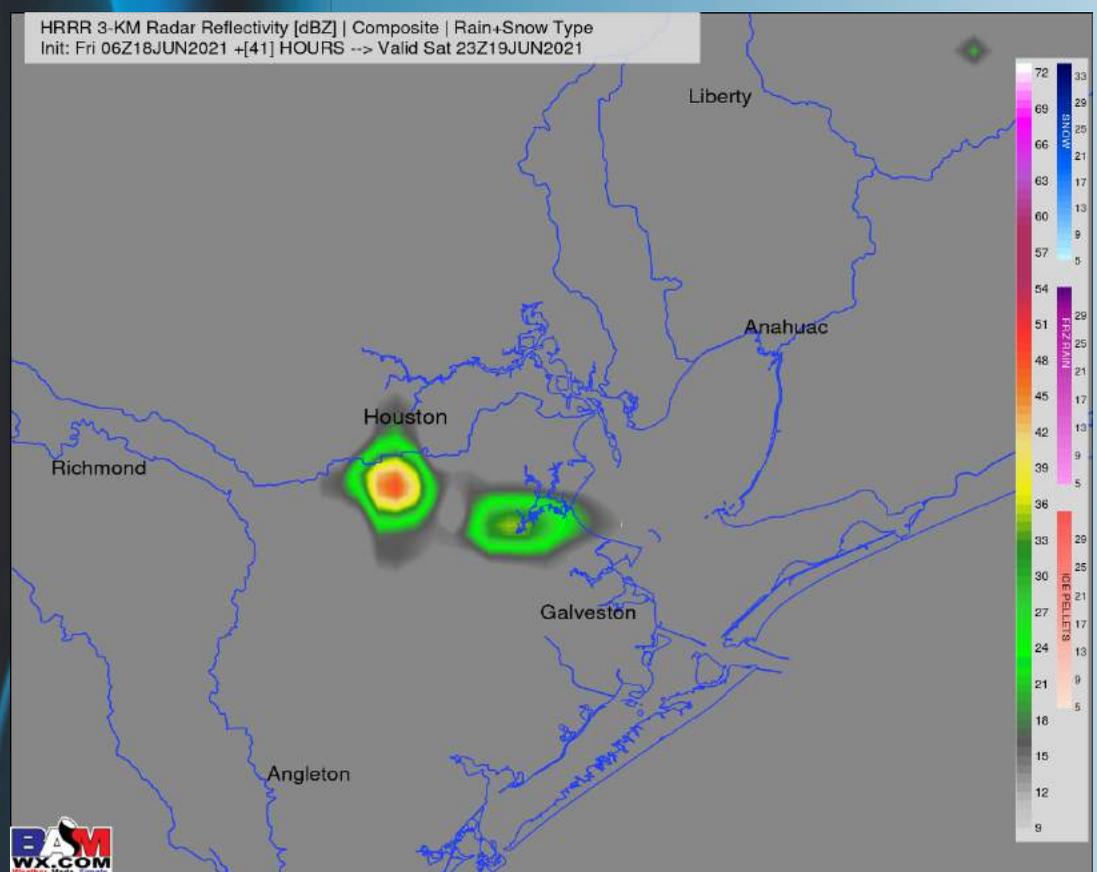

Short-Term Forecast Discussion

- Saturday looks similar to today in the fact that most of the day will likely stay drier, but a few very isolated of scattered shower/ t-storms from the tropical wave will be possible at really anytime. Coverage would be quite limited.
- Winds out through ~1 PM will be rather calm, 3-8 MPH, with variable direction. Into the PM hours, winds increase and look to come from the south at 10-15 MPH with gusts locally higher into the overnight.
- Highs Saturday look to sit in the upper 80s to lower 90s for much of our stations, mid 90s closer to downtown HOU.
 - No fog is favored Saturday.

Sustained Winds (5 PM CT)

Simulated Radar Snapshot (6 PM CT)

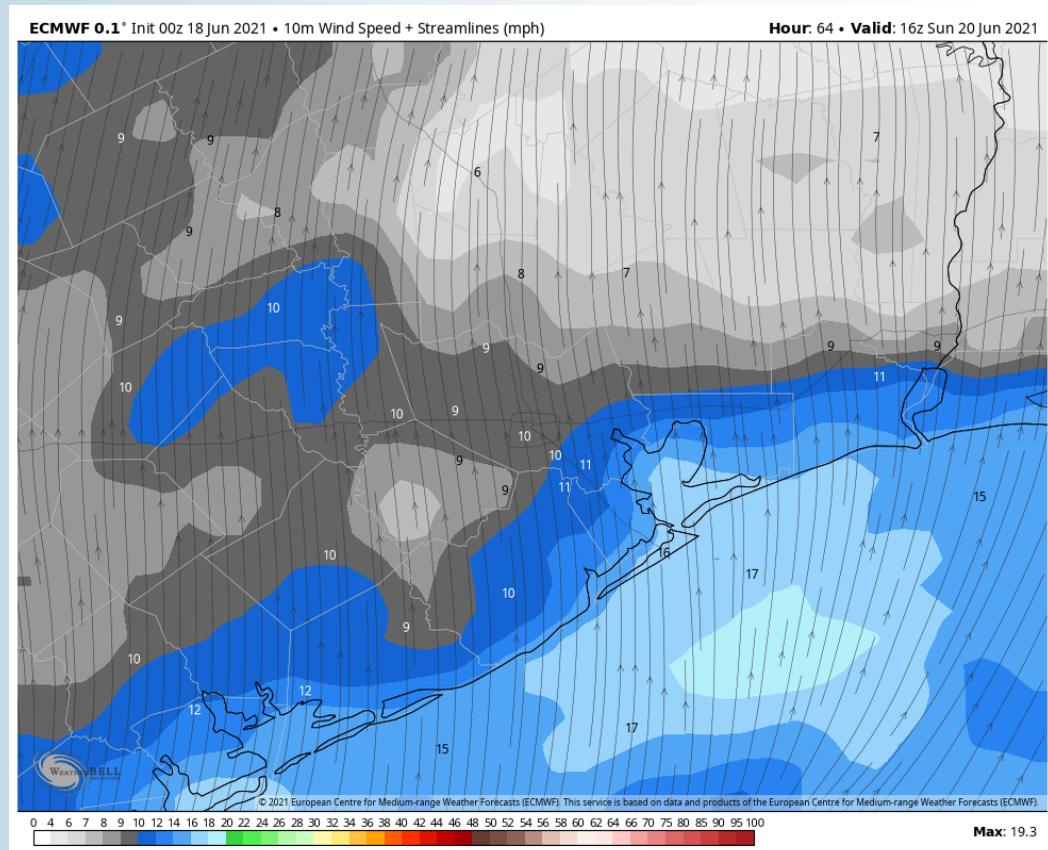

High Temps Saturday

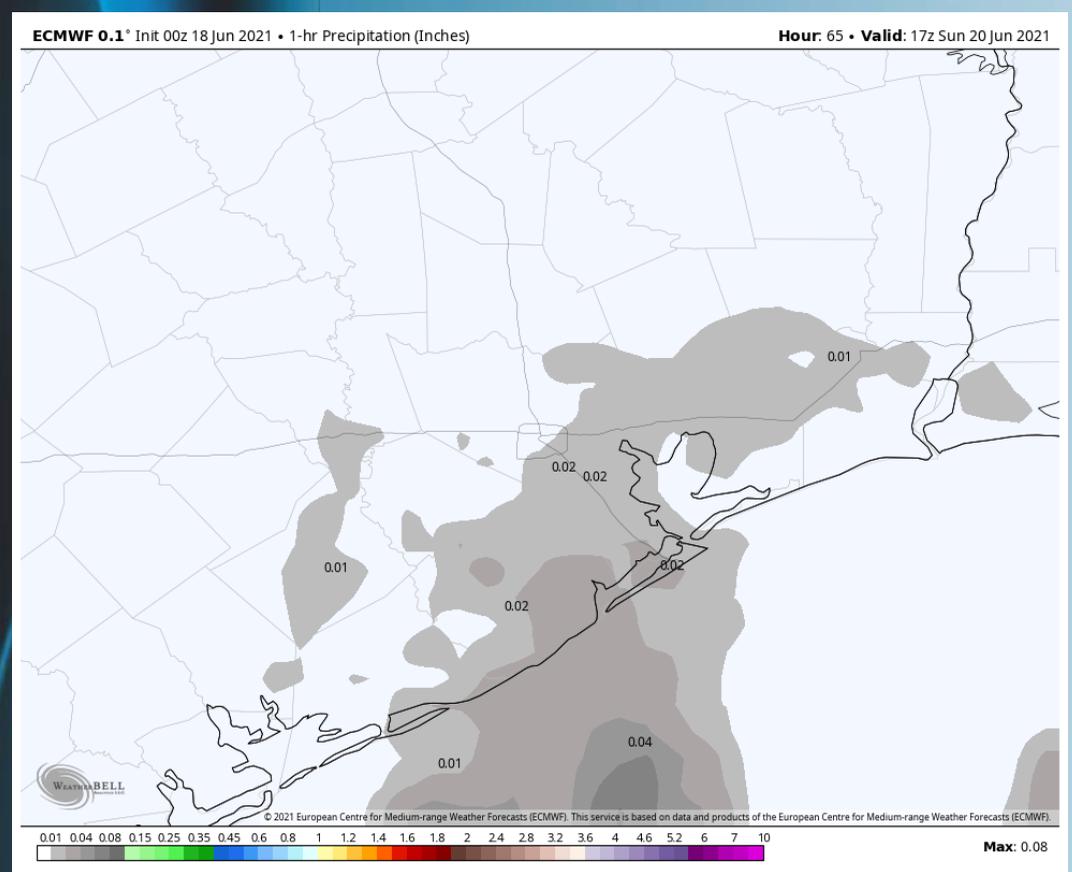

Short-Term Forecast Discussion

- Sunday does look to hold a bit better potential than today or tomorrow (Sat) for scattered showers. A few rounds do look to be possible, but a bit too far out for exact specifics on timing. Best overall threat looks to come mid AM – mid PM.
- Sunday's winds look to be primarily coming from the south, sustained at 10-15 MPH with gusts 15-20 MPH.
- Once again temps should sit upper 80s to lower 90s for most stations, a few clicks warmer inland.
- No fog anticipated Sunday.

Sustained Winds (11 AM CT)

Simulated Radar Snapshot (2 PM CT)

High Temps Sunday

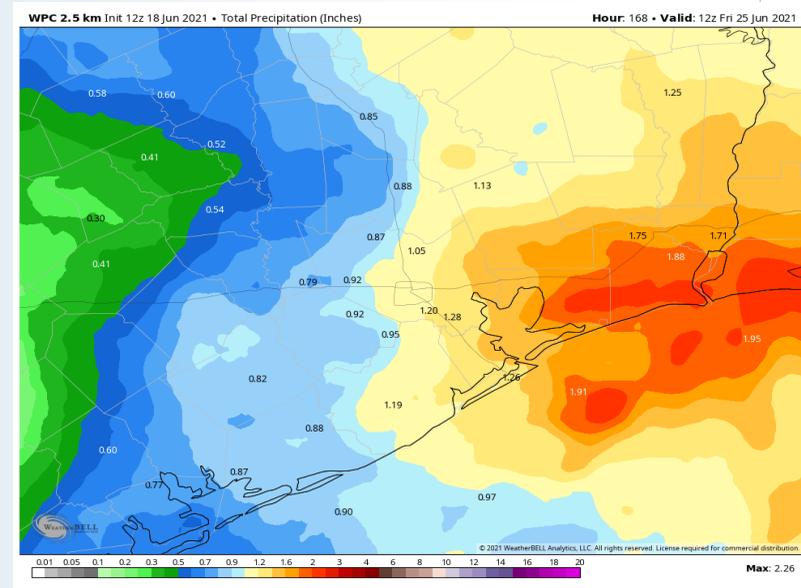

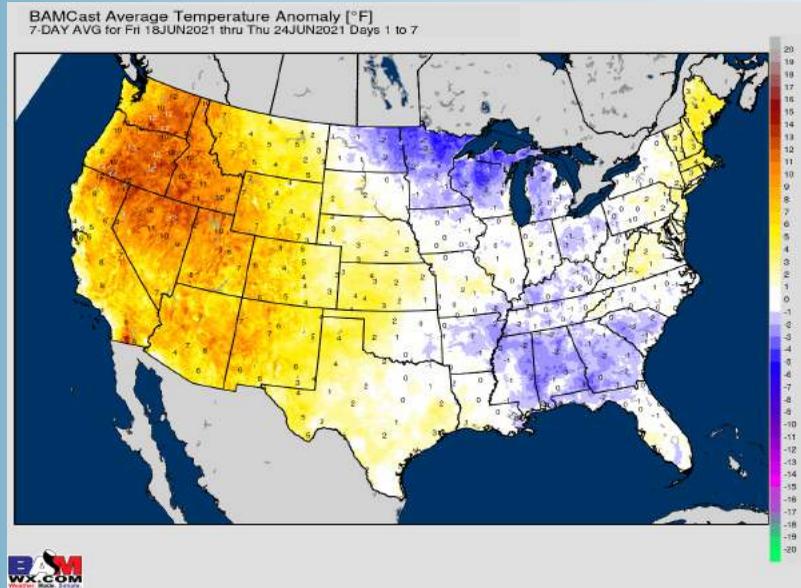

Long-Range Forecast Discussion

- Temperatures look to run at/ slightly above normal the next 7 days. Chances look rather isolated the next few days before better chances look to work in early next week.

- Week 2 is anticipated to trend drier vs previous wetter weeks across the area, while temps look to stay about normal here into late June.

- The weeks ³/₄ (late June to early July) period likely features more cooler than normal temperatures, while precipitation looks to return back to above normal in this period as well.
