6AM Synopsis: NO weather concern today, with more sunshine, calmer winds out of the Northeast, high temperatures near 80F and lower humidity...really nice! A few more clouds will be possible later this afternoon to evening. We are not anticipating an uptick in precipitation chances really until Friday into next weekend right now.

6AM Weather Forecast

Tuesday, August 3, 2021

5 Day Forecast Discussion: Quiet conditions are favored until Friday into this weekend where chances begin to pick up. Plenty of sunshine is expected for much of the week ahead with temperatures early this week in the upper 70s to lower 80s. Temperatures start to increase Thursday into weekend as highs return to the mid-upper 80s. Lower humidity values are expected as well for much of the first half of the week ahead before it starts to pick up this weekend allowing for increasing heat index values. We added our next isolated storm chance on Friday, which likely continues into the weekend.

Tuesday, August 3, 2021

Long Range Forecast Discussion & Scenarios: The next couple of days will feature lower humidity and cooler temps compared to the early August normal, overall dry as well with little weather concern. Looking ahead to later this week, beginning Thursday to Friday the heat returns along with the humidity so the heat indices will be elevated into the mid-to-upper 90s. Isolated storms in hit or miss summer-time fashion will be possible starting this Friday into the weekend. At this distance, data is not in favor of these rains being wash-outs, but rather brief and not widespread.
