5 Day Forecast Discussion: A few isolated-to-scattered storms will be possible today with a slightly better shot getting into the afternoon hours of tomorrow. We continue to anticipate the bulk of activity on Sunday to remain South/ East of the Indy Metro area with Monday looking dry as well. Better chances look to come back into the picture getting into Tuesday. Temperatures in the upper 80's to lower 90's F will be possible this weekend with Heat Index Values in the lower 90's F. Temperatures pick back up MON and TUE of the week ahead.

Long Range Forecast Discussion & Scenarios: Rain chances the next few day look to be minimal but will need to watch for something spotty today/ tomorrow with things looking dry for Sunday and Monday. Some hit and miss opportunities will be possible later into the work week ahead (looking at chances TUE – WED), but don't look overly impressive and are not expected to be washouts at this distance. Temperatures start to pick up, especially into MON – WED of the week ahead. Will need to keep an eye on TUE as there are some model members (see below) which have temperatures getting into the mid to even upper 90's F. Winds overall do not look to be much of an issue as well the next few days.
