10PM Weather Forecast

Sunday, August 22, 2021

5 Day Forecast Discussion: Dry conditions anticipated for tomorrow. Getting into Tuesday and beyond into the week ahead, hit and miss storm chances will be possible. These do not look to be washouts at this distance, but rather, summertime-type pop up thunderstorms in the afternoon. My bet is overall we continue to keep this forecast more dry vs. wet as we have officially slipped into a drought. Heat and humidity pick up next week as well. Heat Index values could reach the upper-90s to near 100F especially TUE/WED/THU. Winds overall look to be light for the week ahead.

Sunday, August 22, 2021

Long Range Forecast Discussion & Scenarios: Outside of a few very isolated chances this afternoon/evening, the overwhelming majority of the day is anticipated to stay on the drier side. The dry theme will continue into Monday as well. Tuesday a few hit and miss showers and storms will be possible, however the threat looks much lower than it was a few days ago and the amount of drier time on Tuesday has increased. At the moment Wednesday looks to offer up slightly better opportunities vs Tuesday. The heat will continue however with highs out through mid week in the lower 90s. Heat Index Values will be sitting in the mid 90s, however Tuesday through Thursday's values will be in the upper 90s to near 100F. Winds do not look to be much of a concern.
