Houston Pilots Extended Range Tropical Report

European Data Tropical Tracks Next 10 Days

Area to monitor in the medium term. Any potential risks to SE TX area would come early Sep.

Likely out to sea/ any potential impact would come along the E Coast.
Concern for any Gulf impact rather low as of now.

No direct tropical threat for Houston expected over the next 7 days, however we will continue to keep eyes on the Caribbean. This wave has yet to even form so far more questions than answers in regards to any details. IF anything does come of this wave and IF it is able to sustain itself into the Western Gulf, and potential impacts would not likely come until the Sep 3-6 timeframe.

Houston Pilots: Thurs. 8/25/2022

Forecast Discussion

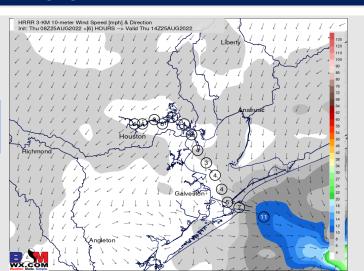

Precip: 30% chances for a few shower/t-storms continue throughout the morning. Data has certainly trended weaker with coverage into the afternoon – currently favoring 30-40% chances to continue through the PM. There looks to be the potential for a good bit of the PM hours to be drier, however in this pattern it is difficult to say with high confidence when those dry hours will happen given the pop up nature. Pockets of moderate to heavy rain and lighting will be possible.

Wind: Sustained winds in the AM out of the S/SW at 8-13 MPH. Winds lighter north of the boarding station at 3-7 MPH. After 9-10 AM, winds shift to out of the NW at 5-10 MPH for Morgan's Point and points surrounding, with slightly stronger winds near the boarding station sustained at 8-13 MPH. Isolated gusts of 15-20+ MPH will be possible under heavier pulses of rain, however this is not expected to be a widespread concern.

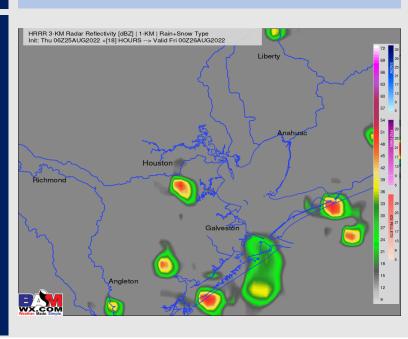

Temps: High temps today in the mid 80s near the boarding station and upper 80s to low 90s for all other stations.

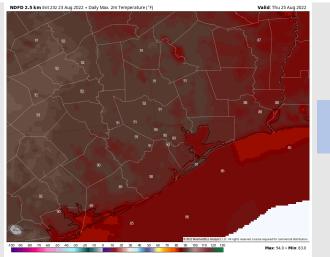

Visibility: Not anticipating fog concerns at this time.

Wind Speed 11 AM CT

Precip Forecast: 4 PM CT

High Temps Today

Forecast Discussion

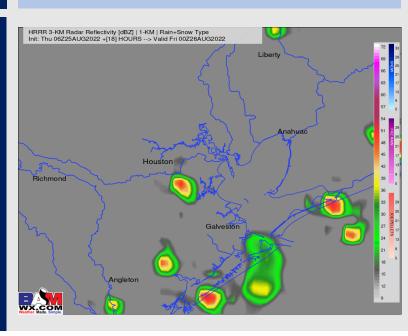

Precip: While Friday will by no means be a washout, it will be another day of hit and miss rain chances. Expecting slightly less coverage in the AM with a 20% chance through ~Noon. Plenty of dry time, but enough energy overhead to keep the mention of an iso cell popping at any time. Coverage likely increases some into the PM with chances 30-40% coming at any point. Locally heavier rains and lightning continue to be the main hazards.

Wind: Variable winds throughout the AM Friday 2-7 MPH. They will generally be out of the SSW for most of the day, however as pockets of precip move through, direction may change some. Winds will be calmer at 5-10 MPH until around 3 PM for most stations, then increase to 8-13 MPH for the rest of the afternoon/evening.

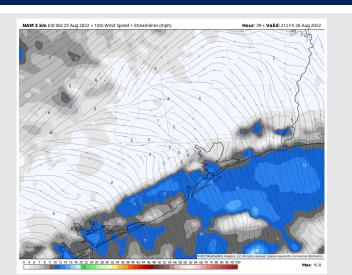

Temps: Highs on Friday will be in the lower 90s for most places and mid 80s near the boarding station.

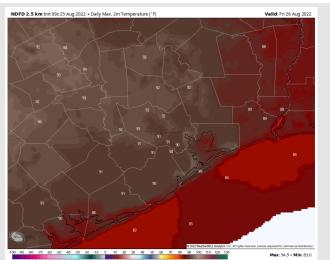

Visibility: Not anticipating fog concerns at this time.

Precip Forecast: 6 PM CT

Wind Speed 5 PM CT

High Temps FRI

Forecast Discussion

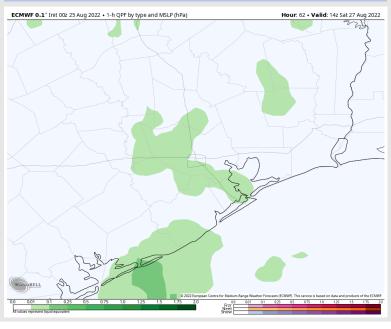

Precip: A "rinse and repeat" pattern Saturday with isolated to scattered shower and thunderstorm. The pattern will continue to remain difficult to nail down specific timing given the sporadic nature of things / not a defined wave of energy passing through the area.

Wind: Variable winds throughout the AM Saturday 3-8MPH. After 1PM, winds veer out of the S at 5-10 MPH and continue for the rest of the evening. Gusts of 10-15 MPH possible.

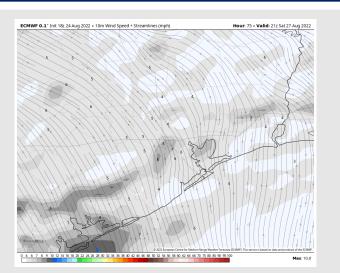

Temps: High temps Saturday in the mid 80s F near the boarding station and in the upper 80s F near 90 F at all other stations.

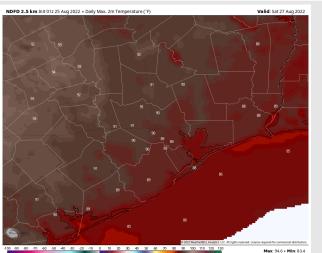

Visibility: Not anticipating fog concerns at this time.

Precip Forecast: 4 PM CT

Wind Speed 4 PM CT
