Weather Headlines

- Anticipating a dry stretch over the next 72 hours with a low-end chance for drizzle ending this morning.
- Today and Thursday will be breezy days with winds ranging from 10 – 20 kts today. Eyeing 35-45 kt potential gusts late Thursday night into early Friday morning.
- The pattern ahead looks rather unfavorable for fog. We will watch trends closely, but a primarily Northerly wind with drier air should really limit fog chances over the next 7-10 days.
- Towards the end of the week temperatures are expected to be well below average.
