FORECAST NOTES

Today's Precipitation Chances:

Dry conditions are favored for today.

Icing concerns?

Frost on grass is expected tomorrow but a bit lower confidence on pavement. With that being said, a thin layer of frost cannot be ruled out. In addition, patchy fog tomorrow AM could deposit a small layer of ice as well. Naturally, colder surfaces and elevated surfaces would be at greatest risk for a slick spot.

Dew/Frost:

Anticipate frost formation tomorrow AM.

Next 7 Day Rainfall Totals

NEXT 5 DAYS: IMPORTANT FORECAST NOTES:

Precipitation:

- ✓ MON- WED: A drier stretch of weather is expected over the next few days.
- ✓ THU: The pattern starts to turn a little more active. THU PM looks to be the main opportunity for rain showers.
- ✓ FRI-SAT: Light Rain showers look to be possible on Friday, especially the AM/ early PM. Some potential for light snow / drizzle exists into Fri PM into SAT.
- ✓ SUN-TUE: Very low confidence exists into the late weekend into early next week. Several low-pressure systems will be at play. However, exact timing, track, etc. remain very questionable at this distance. An opportunity for rain/ snow will be possible.

Temperatures:

- ✓ Temperatures will be on the uptick into the weekend as temperatures into the 50's F will be possible later this week.
- ✓ Temperatures will start to moderate into early next week behind a cold front.

Wind/Clouds:

- ✓ TUE is expected to have mostly sunny conditions with WED looking to be mostly cloudy (with a few peaks of sun).
- ✓ Clouds will likely be on the increase heading into late week/ early weekend. While a few peaks of sun will be possible at times, there will likely be more cloud cover to contend with.
- ✓ The potential for Wind gusts near 30 - 35 MPH will be possible on THU/ FRI. Outside of that, we currently do not see anything overly problematic concerning winds.
