Best timeframe will be from 2 - 9 AM

Dew/Frost:

Anticipate light frost formation tomorrow AM.

Next 7 Day Rainfall Totals

NEXT 5 DAYS: IMPORTANT FORECAST NOTES:

Precipitation:

- ✓ TUE- WED: A drier stretch of weather is expected/favored
- ✓ THU: The pattern starts to turn a little more active. THU PM looks to be the main opportunity for rain showers, although showers can arrive as early as noon. A few rumbles of thunder cannot be ruled out in the late afternoon
- ✓ FRI-SAT: Light Rain showers/stray thunderstorm look to be possible on Friday, especially the AM. The afternoon does look to dry out on Friday. Into Sat AM a very low-end flurry chance cannot be ruled out
- ✓ SUN-TUE: Very low confidence exists into the late weekend into early next week. Several low-pressure systems will be at play. However, exact timing, track, etc. remain very questionable at this distance. An opportunity for rain/ snow will be possible

Temperatures:

- ✓ Temperatures will be on the uptick into the weekend as temperatures into the 50's F will be possible later this week. Very mild for this time of the year
- ✓ Temperatures will start to moderate into early next week behind a cold front as we work into a more active period

Wind/Clouds:

- ✓ WED will feature mostly cloudy skies (with a few peaks of sun)
- ✓ Clouds will likely be on the increase heading into late week/ early weekend. While a few peaks of sun will be possible at times, there will likely be more cloud cover to contend with. One window for some sun to peak through will be behind the Friday cold front for the PM hours
- ✓ The potential for Wind gusts near 30 - 35 MPH will be possible on THU PM → SAT AM. Outside of that, we currently do not see anything overly problematic concerning winds
