Rainfall totals Next 7 Days

NEXT 5 DAYS: IMPORTANT FORECAST NOTES:

Precipitation:

- ✓ SUN: Currently favoring SUN to be dry. Light precipitation remains to the north
- ✓ MON: A few isolated showers cannot be ruled out. Mainly in the AM. Any rain chance would be light at around 0.01"
- ✓ TUE - WED: Confidence is simply low with precipitation chances next week, but we need to continue to be on the lookout for a stronger storm system capable of producing severe weather and heavy rain. Best thinking is for a warm front to bring rain/storm chances near the early AM Tuesday and then again in the afternoon. For Wednesday, we will need to watch for some backside rain and snow showers behind the low-pressure system
- ✓ THU: A few isolated flurries in the AM are possible, but favoring conditions to be dry as high pressure settles in behind the low

Temperatures:

- ✓ Temperatures follow a gradual warming trend this week with the warmest day arriving Tuesday
- ✓ A brief cooldown will then follow on Wed/Thu behind a cold front, bringing temperatures into the upper 30s to lower 40s F

Wind/Clouds:

- ✓ Mostly sunny skies in store for Sunday
- ✓ Monday will see a mix of sun and clouds
- ✓ Cloudiest days arrive from Tue - Thu AM where skies will be mostly cloudy to overcast. Mostly sunny skies will follow into Fri/Sat
- ✓ Gusts of 30 - 40 mph can be possible late Monday PM into Tuesday PM. Wednesday can also see gusts of up to 30 - 40 mph. Locally higher gusts will be possible under stronger storms potentially on TUE PM/WED AM
