Rainfall totals Next 7 Days

NEXT 5 DAYS: IMPORTANT FORECAST NOTES:

Precipitation:

- ✓ MON: Monday offers up the best potential the next few days for rain/ storms moving into the area, especially the PM hours. Heavy rain cannot be ruled out with these storms. A low-end risk for a stronger storm exists.
- ✓ TUE: Lower confidence into TUE pending the speed of the front. Slower solutions would keep chances around TUE AM while quicker solutions leave Chicago on the drier side. Favoring now for rain/thundershower chances to leave by 9 AM.
- ✓ WED: Conditions on Wednesday more likely dry than not. Any isolated showers would be in the early AM prior to 3 AM.
- ✓ THU: Favoring dry conditions. App would be at risk of being too wet with rain chances as bulk of precip is favored to arrive Friday.
- ✓ FRI: Another wave of precip is favored to arrive during the early morning on Friday and continue throughout the afternoon and into the Evening. Risk will be for heavy downpours and an isolated lightning strike.

Temperatures:

- ✓ Very mild an unseasonable air continues. A cold front will cool off temps from the mid 60s to upper 40s F getting into Tuesday and into the work week temperatures remain near steady in the mid to upper 40s F.
- ✓ Nighttime lows remain mild as well. Mid to upper 30s F are expected post Tuesday.

Wind/Clouds:

- ✓ More sun SUN and likely the first half of MON before the next system/ front moves in. Mon/Tue/Wed will hold more clouds than sun
- ✓ Mon can see a few elevated wind gusts at 25 - 30 mph (potentially up to 30 mph)
- ✓ Tue -Thu will be rather consistent with winds with PM gusts of around 20 - 25 mph. Locally up to 30 MPH.
